LAST NIGHT'S SESSION.

The Convention at Work Until 2:30 a.m. Fierce Struggle Over the Illinois Contests—Anti-Grant Victory.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

CHICAGO, June 4.—When the convention was called to order at 7:30 p.m. Mr. General Harrison said the convention was impatient of delays, and moved that half an hour be given to debate on the Alabama case. Mr. Conkling suggested that the time be divided equally. Gen. Harrison said that was understood, he thought. Conkling responded "the gentleman knows better than I," to which Gen. Harrison said "there's nothing I know better than the Senator from New York," which pleasantly excited laughter. After further discussion and explanation the motion was adopted to give twenty minutes to each side for debate.

The Alabama case was decided in favor of the contestants by a vote of 306 to 449, and the Illinois case was at once taken up.

After discussing the Illinois case, it was agreed that one hour should be given to presenting each side, which will not allow a vote to be taken much before 2 o'clock.

THE CONTESTED CASES.

The fight on the Illinois case was very bitter and long continued, and gave opportunity for outbreaks remarkable in National conventions.

When the question of the time to be given to debate on Illinois was up, Logan took advantage of the good nature of the chair to make a ranting speech, in which he said much about "the old soldier," "the man who saved the country," etc. This was the signal for an outbreak of popular applause in favor of Grant, but the unfortunate call of Logan upon Pixley, of California, gave that gentleman a chance to name Blaine, and at that time the wildest scene ensued. For five minutes, the house was kept with noise. In the galleries and on the floor hundreds stood waving hats, howls, etc., shouting like mad. It showed how strong the Blaine and anti-Grant feeling was.

EXTRAORDINARY DEMONSTRATIONS.

This settled the Grantites and arrangements were made to send a word being conveyed all along the line. When Stuart was speaking on the Illinois case about twelve o'clock the signal was given, and for twelve minutes it seemed as if pandemonium had broken loose. The wildest yelling, stamping, pounding, chairs with sticks, and all manner of making noise and exhibiting enthusiasm were resorted to. Conkling and Logan joined, the former gesturing the state banner, and Elliott and the seats, mounted the chair and waved it wildly for Grant. The roll came at length, and the Grantites were sitting down contentedly, believing no demonstration could be made against them, when some one said: "Hurrah for James G. Blaine!"

Fire to powder could not have created a quicker explosion. An incredible scene followed, lasting twenty minutes. A demonstration being wholly exceeded. Flags were torn down and waved, and all possible actions were indulged to show favor for the plumed knight. One woman tore all the flags off and tried to climb on the statue of liberty like the chairman. It was the wildest and most exciting scene of passion ever seen in a national convention. The effect, of course, was to set Blaine ahead.

(General Press Dispatch.)

2:30 a.m.—After a protracted debate, Gen. Grant and Henry A. Harris, supporting the majority report, and Elliott and Mr. Conkling the minority report, the roll of states was called on the first Illinois contested district. The roll resulted, year 1879, year 1880, to the contestants against the district are admitted.

Upon the question of the adoption of the remainder of the majority report, Logan asked a division and a vote on each congressional district. The roll was called on the first district with the following result: Year 1879, year 1880, to the contestants against the district are admitted.

Alabama case, gave them their seats. So, for constancy sake, all anti-Grant men had to vote for their admission and the Grant men against it. New York, Missouri, and some other Grant men declined to vote; but by a large majority the contestants were seated.

THE WEST VIRGINIA CASE.

On the vote of the West Virginia case the Grant, Sherman and Edmunds men united against Blaine and Washburne, the Windom men standing neutral. The result was 330 for Blaine and Washburne, and 330 for the opposition. By the admission of the contestants Grant and Sherman each gain one. Whether this means only a temporary union to get the votes away from Blaine or a combination against Blaine in the nomination can not be learned now.

THE UTAH CASE.

The debate on the Utah contest was noisy. The sitting members are Blaine, and the contestants Grant men. A careful estimate of the vote on the West Virginia case gives Blaine 303 and Grant 297. The Utah vote resulted in showing some peculiar changes from the last vote, seating the contestants by a larger majority than West Virginia—426 yeas to 312 noes.

THE MINORITY REPORT.

The majority and minority reports on rules were read, and Mr. Sharpe, of New York, moved that as the convention had not met along nearly four days without rules, the convention proceed to ballot at 10 and 15 minutes be allowed to present each candidate and ten minutes to the majority report, and ten minutes to the minority report. The motion was not received. Gen. Garfield made the point that it was not in order. The chair ordered the point. Garfield made a powerful argument against proceeding without rules. Garfield's speech was interrupted by a personal spat between Frye and Conkling, the former alleging that the Grantites wanted to get a chance to debate, and state of fact the motion was adopted.

THE ROLL OF STATES.

The roll of states was demanded on Sharpe's resolution to nominate immediately, and the result was its overwhelming defeat by a vote of 276 to 479.

(General Press Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, June 5.—The terrible strain on the nerves of the delegates at last night's protracted session was sufficient to prevent a prompt appearance this morning, and a great boom for Grant. He appeared in the "old soldier," repeating the phrase many times, with great hand clapping, etc., and called the convention to order although the time fixed for meeting was 11 o'clock. Reporters, delegates and auditors seemed all weary and there was not vivacity in the proceedings preliminary to the actual work of the convention. For the first time since the convention opened, there was a place where there was small chance for intelligent understanding of the debates about the platform. Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution as follows:

Resolved, That the national republican executive committee be requested to prepare and present a method for the election of delegates to the national convention to be held at year 1884, and to issue instructions in conformity therewith.

Mr. Conkling objected to the present consideration of the resolution, and moved that it be laid over.

The chairman announced that the disposition of the Kansas case was decided in favor of the contestants. Mr. Conkling stated that Kansas case from the standpoint of the majority report, Kansas was decided in favor of the contestants. Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution as follows:

Mr. Sharpe stated that he wished to shorten the work of the convention, but he must speak against the adoption of the unit rule. He said that the unit rule was a bad thing, and that it could be obtained. He therefore offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the convention will at once proceed to ballot for president of the United States, and that fifteen minutes be allowed to present the candidates, and that the balance of the time be devoted to a speech preceding the nomination.

Railroad Information.
The official announcement is made, as was stated in The News yesterday, that the Pennsylvania road out of Cincinnati and St. Louis, will be discontinued to-morrow. The officials connected with the road are giving up the fight, but it seems there was no alternative. The Vanderbilt and Erie line gave them their choice to either withdraw or go into a rate war, as they would not, under any circumstances, shorten up their time, but would give the traveling public very cheap rates as an offset against the loss of the line. The superintendent of the Pennsylvania road has been invited to attend this meeting.

MARKET REPORT.
Indianapolis Wholesale Market.
There is a continued steady trade in the local wholesale market to-day, and but few changes are noted in quotations. Eggs are a little weaker, but in fact of continued heavy receipts, and to-day's prices are only a few cents lower. Sugar is stronger and higher, while coffee is firm but dull, and there is no confidence in any prominent improvements. Cattle is firm under a better demand; rice active and weak; dried fruits dull and quiet; foreign dried fruits quiet and weak. All kinds of merchandise in moving of much better prices are generally trading up.

NOTICE
To Tennessee and Meridian Street Property Owners.
In view of the permanent character of the improvements about to be made on Tennessee and Meridian streets, the Water Works Company respectfully recommends that all who may intend having the water pipes tapped within the next few years, had better have the same done now, as it will be a great saving of time and money.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN
All Countries Boast of Their
BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.
But it is Well Known to those Who Have Traveled in Europe and Other
Foreign Countries,
That the United States Can
Truthfully Boast
Of the Most Beautiful Women in the World.

The American women have the finest hair of any people in the world. And indeed, a fine head of hair on a lady is a beauty and charm that cannot be overestimated. It is the only hair that is so valuable, and it is so easy to care for and cultivate with the greatest pride and interest. Just as soon as the hair begins to fall out, and if it falls out, it is a great loss. It is time to be alarmed, and to take steps to prevent it. What shall I do? Well, there is but one thing for you to do if you want to stop the falling out of the hair and keep it in a nice soft, silky condition, namely, use "Hair Reviver." It is a pleasant and sure remedy, and an unequalled hair-dresser. It keeps the skin of the scalp clean and pure, stimulates the hair follicles or glands, and has the wonderful property of causing gray hair to be original color. If you have any doubt on the question, just get one bottle, only fifty cents, and you will need no more plucking with. And for baldness it is the only hair restorative that has stood the test. It will make hair grow on any bald head if there are any hair roots or follicles in the skin, and if there are none, nothing can produce hair, but nature's action will be stimulated by it. These follicles are generally present, and only need the use of "Hair Reviver" to start the hair growing.
